Press Release

Winter Weather Information

Residents of Loudon please read the attached Press Release from the State of New Hampshire Department of Safety with messaging from Fire Marshal Paul J. Parisi & Director of Homeland Security & Emergency Management Jennifer Harper. This information is about the changing winter weather forecast for the next week and important preparedness steps each building owner can take. We have had two Carbon Monoxide emergencies & two Chimney Fires this week. Although we have not had the significant snow other parts of the state have. Please take time this weekend to check the condition of your chimneys & vents as well as to prepare for a potentially significant rainfall on Monday & Tuesday which could cause water problems. Take the time to clear drains which control water runoff to minimize opportunities for property damage due to the frozen ground and existing snow and ice conditions.

Have a Safe Weekend
